Sutton Cricket Club 29th/30th May Round Up!

Sutton 1st XI had an exciting 4 run win at Cambridge Avenue against Malden Wanderers. Sutton posted 217 for 6 off their 50 overs with Sam Seadon (76) and Josh Blake (69) the main contributors. Some tight death bowling from Sam Blake and Aneesh Jhalla means Sutton are joint leaders of the division. (Mike Woods match report here:- www.thethirdman.uk)

The History of Stoke D'Abernon CC

The history of Stoke D'Abernon Cricket Club dates back over 140 years to the 1870s when the local landowners of the day, the Philips family, set aside a field next to the Manor House, (now Parkside School), for cricket matches. Matches were played on Sundays, the team being drawn from the lads and men from the estate and the local farms. However, Canon Philips is said to have disapproved of Sunday play, and after a few years, the venue for matches moved to Pear Tree Meadow – the site of present-day Winston Drive – until the railway in 1885 forced a further, and as it turned out final, move to the present day ground, then just a field and also part of the Manor House estate. The parish records mention a match against West Clandon in 1892, and during the period until the First World War intervened, the Club's fixtures were on an informal basis, mainly against other local teams such as Bookham and the Tilt – which was an important local cricket venue before traffic growth and post-war tree planting.

From 1885 onwards the railway brought Stoke within easy travelling distance of the city of London, and thus the teams included a mix of stockbrokers and other city commuters, farmhands and local traders. The tradition of players coming down from the London 'smoke' to play for Stoke is evident from club records of the 1920s.

In 1919, a meeting held in the Men's Club, (now Stoke D'Abernon Village Hall), agreed to re-establish the Cricket Club after the Great War. The field was in a very rough state, and at first only a small area was prepared. The remainder of the field was left uncut and no boundaries were marked out. Many fours, (and more!), were all-run, and there were frequent run-outs. Through sheer perseverance, and a great deal of hard physical toil by the members, often starting at around 6am on a match day, aided by two hand mowers and a roller, pulled first by hand and then by a pony, the table was gradually extended. Then an outfield was cut until a ground about the size of a lower half of the present recreation ground was eventually created. The pony which drew the mower had first to be caught in the Schiff fields, the present day Knowle Hill Park, Cargills; then coaxed to the ground, which could take many hours. Later, members went to the lengths of providing the pony with specially made leather boots in order not to damage the playing surface.

(Continued from front page.....) The 2nd XI lost by 5 wickets to Malden Wanderers at Cheam Road. With Jamie Griffin, Sangram Reddy and Matt Gardner contributing, Sutton's total of 197 for 9 looked challenging. The visitors were reeling at 30 for 4 but a 6th wicket partnership of 78 claimed the spoils.

The 3rd XI turned in a disappointing performance at Abbey Rec against Battersea Ironsides losing by 56 runs. They did manage to restrict their hosts to just 158 with the ever-impressive Abdul Moeed taking 4 for 28. But the batting lacked belief and they were 100 all out in the 35th over.

The 4th XI defeated a youthful Twenty20 Academy with some tight bowling and fielding at Holmwood Close. Ramalingam and Quinton with 4 and 3 wickets respectively kept the visitors to just 135 all out on the final over and Sutton won with 10 overs to spare with Shravan Ganesh' powerful hitting entertaining the throng.

On Sunday, the ladies team lost their T20 game to Twickenham by 15 runs. The visitors made 128 for 3 but Sutton's batting lacked depth despite 36 from Rebecca Denman and 23 from Jess Lewis providing a promising 88 for 2!

A youthful Sunday men's XI won easily at Tadworth. Sutton posted 300 for 2 with Rajnikanth and Erra scoring maiden adult centuries. A more senior Sunday men's XI won by 8 wickets against Bookham at Cheam Road in glorious sunshine (at last!)
